

Yaku overview

A brief overview of the yaku (winning patterns) currently scored by `analyzeHand`. Each yaku adds the listed han value when it fires. Multiple yaku stack additively, except for the precedence rules noted below; the scoring orchestrator (`server/src/scoring/orchestrator.ts`) walks every valid decomposition (standard / chiitoitsu / kokushi) and picks the best-scoring interpretation.

Detectors live in `server/src/scoring/yaku/`.

1 han

Yaku	Description
All Simples	Every tile is a 2–8 of man, pin, or sou (no terminals, no honours).
Red Dragon	Triplet of red dragons (中).
White Dragon	Triplet of white dragons (白).
Green Dragon	Triplet of green dragons (發).
Round Wind	Triplet of the current round wind.
Seat Wind	Triplet of this team's seat wind.
All Sequences ("pinfu")	All four melds are runs, the pair is non-yakuhai, and the winning tile completes a two-sided (ryanmen) wait.
Pure Double Sequence ("iipeikou")	Two identical runs in the same suit.

2 han

Yaku	Description
Three Colour Straight	The same numerical run (e.g. 3-4-5) in each of man, pin, and sou.
Pure Straight	Runs 1-2-3, 4-5-6, and 7-8-9 all present in the same numbered suit.

All Triplets	All four melds are triplets — no runs anywhere.
Three Colour Triplets	The same numerical triplet in each of man, pin, and sou.
All Terminals and Honours	Every tile is a 1, 9, wind, or dragon, with at least one terminal and at least one honour.
Outside Hand ("chanta")	Every meld and the pair contains a terminal or honour, with at least one run and at least one honour.
Little Three Dragons	Two dragon triplets plus the third dragon as the pair (stacks on top of the two yakuhai that fire automatically).
Seven Pairs ("chiitoitsu")	Seven distinct pairs — only fires on the chiitoitsu decomposition.

3 han

Yaku	Description
Half Flush ("honitsu")	Exactly one numbered suit plus at least one honour.
Pure Outside Hand ("junchan")	Every meld and the pair touches a terminal (1 or 9), no honours, with at least one run.
Twice Pure Double Sequence ("ryanpeikou")	The four melds partition into two distinct pairs of identical runs.

6 han

Yaku	Description
Full Flush ("chinitsu")	Every tile is in a single numbered suit, no honours.

Yakuman

Yakuman pay a flat base regardless of fu. Co-firing yakuman stack (e.g. Big Three Dragons + All Honours = double yakuman). Red fives and dora do not contribute on top of a yakuman.

Yaku	Description
Big Three Dragons ("daisangen")	Triplets of all three dragons.
Thirteen Orphans ("kokushi musou")	One of each terminal and honour, with one of them paired — only fires on the kokushi decomposition.
All Honours ("tsuuiisou")	Every tile is a wind or dragon.
All Terminals ("chinroutou")	Every tile is a 1 or 9 of a numbered suit.
All Green ("ryuuiisou")	Every tile is sou 2/3/4/6/8 or green dragon.
Big Four Winds ("daisuushii")	Four wind triplets.
Little Four Winds ("shousuushii")	Three wind triplets plus the fourth wind as the pair.
Nine Gates ("chuuren poutou")	One numbered suit only, with the canonical 1112345678999 core plus any one additional tile in the same suit.

Precedence

When two yaku overlap on the same decomposition, only the higher-value form is kept:

- Twice Pure Double Sequence supersedes Pure Double Sequence.
- Full Flush supersedes Half Flush.
- Pure Outside Hand supersedes Outside Hand.

A hand that decomposes as both standard (e.g. ryanpeikou) and chiitoitsu is scored on whichever decomposition yields the higher total points.

Bonuses (not yaku)

These add han only when paired with at least one real yaku — they do not qualify a hand for a win on their own.

- Red Five — han equal to the number of red-five tiles in the hand (when the rule is enabled).

- Dora — han equal to the number of dora tiles in the hand, derived from the dora indicators.
